

Our history...

North Country Community Theatre began with the goal to produce quality community theatre and provide Upper Valley residents with the opportunity to take part in all aspects of a theatrical production.

Since our very first production of The Music Man in 1973, we have presented not only summer musicals, but also teen theatre, one acts, touring shows, dinner theatre, melodramas, comedies, mysteries and original revues utilizing the community talents of the Upper Valley including actors, directors, producers, choreographers, technicians, dancers and musicians.

Our present...

In August 2011 Hurricane Irene flooded our storage and work space destroying the majority of our costumes, archives, sets, and props. We will be recovering from these losses for years to come. Our members and supporters have been generous in donating their time and money to our recovery.

Our future...

Despite our losses, NCCT continues to be devoted to supporting and sustaining the performing arts in the Upper Valley region of Vermont and New Hampshire. In addition to our performances we have begun offering classes for aspiring theatre artists age four to adults through our new Educational Theatre Company (ETC). More details can be found at www.ncct.org.
